Same Trusted Scores.
Enhanced TOEFL iBT® Experience.

The world's most respected and accepted English-language test is offering an even better test experience, effective July 26, 2023!

As we continue to evolve with the needs of test takers and institutions, we continuously ensure that the TOEFL iBT® test is still the rigorous, academically focused test you trust, with valid and reliable scores for confident decision making.

What's new for institutions:

- Enhanced testing security
- Timelier score communication
- For Slate users:
  - Convenient, automatic uploading of scores
  - Access to listening and speaking responses

What stays the same:

- The scoring scale remains the same — no changes to existing score requirements are needed.
- You can continue to receive scores the same way you receive them now.
- The TOEFL® Search Service continues to be available for you to use as a recruiting tool.
- Test security is of the highest priority. Our rigorous processes ensure that score collection, reporting and distribution are seamless and secure.

How We Reduced TOEFL iBT Test Time to Just Under 2 Hours

To reduce test time, we:

- Streamlined test instructions and navigation
- Removed all unscored questions
- Eliminated the 10-minute break
- Reduced the number of Reading passages from three to two
- Implemented a new, more modern and concise Writing task

Test takers can focus even more on what really matters — achieving their goal of getting into your program

Convenient Slate Integration

Slate users now enjoy:

- A full integration that provides easier access to scores.
- Removal of manual pain points with a one-time, server-to-server connection that allows you to automatically receive test data with every score release.
- A customized dashboard so you can decide which data you want to view, including integrated Speaking and Writing responses.

Home Edition Enhancement and Benefits

- Students will run a system check immediately prior to their test and can troubleshoot any technical issues they may have with their proctor.
  - This new system check will minimize score cancellations by reducing the occurrence of false positives.
  - Less frustrated test takers and fewer score cancellations of your prospective students will create a better overall test experience.

"TOEFL has been an industry standard for nearly six decades, and these enhancements further underscore its position. Most importantly, these enhancements were developed through the lens of our customers and stakeholders — because they are our highest priority to serve."
